

I am a subscriber to XM Radio. As such I strongly oppose any attempt to limit the content which satellite broadcasters are allowed to carry. Consumers should be allowed to freely choose between competing media. Judging by the nature of some of their current offerings (e.g. Howard Stern), traditional broadcasters should not be allowed a monopoly over any content.